

NO DEFORESTATION POLICY

- La Joya is committed to the sustainable and development of palm oil cultivation, crude oil and associated products.
- La Joya guarantees that farms and agricultural properties that have any type of relationship with the company, use non-deforestation as a development policy, throughout the territory of influence, as well as inviting the surrounding communities to protect and maintenance of existing natural resources.
- We will not encourage palm oil cultivation development and other crops on wooded land or that have been identified as High Conservation Value or fragile soils.
